SPRING _____

Spring

Fall is here and it's back to school again; back from enjoyable vacations, hard work and pleasure. We hear the coach's voice on the football field when the thrilling football season begins. We watch the muddy shoes digging up the dirt and we hear the loyal shouts and cheers of the crowd. We also see the pretty majorettes strutting down the field to the tune of the High School Band.

Along with the happy experiences and the fun, another year of studying begins. A lot of us enjoy coming back to see the old gangs again and find out what happened that was interesting in the summer. All of these events come but once in a lifetime and that is during our "school days."

National Honor Society Starts School With New Ideals

Along with the Fall season we have our National Honor Society which is composed of students who rank high in leadership, scholastic ability, and character. To be in the N. H. S. you must have an average of a "B" and above, and you must maintain that average to stay in the club.

The advisor is Mr. Rios. They try to have a meeting every month. Indeed it is a real honor to tell someone you belong to the National Honor Society.

Ihrough the Seasons Hi-Lites Reports the News

The Hi-Lites comes out during the Fall, Winter, and Spring seasons. The Hi-Lite staff is headed by Lynne Cady and Pat Hodgman as co-editors. The staff, as we all know, is always busy finding and reporting the lastest news and happenings around Highland. The paper has been improved this year, with many new features added. The Advisor is Mrs. Egleston. The office practice class types the Hi-Lites.

Hornets Brighten Fall With Perfect Record

Mike plunges on.

This Fall Highland's football team had a very successful season. They won every game they played. They were all won with very impressive scores. The reason for the success was that the team was well balanced and had spirit. The line was very strong in opening holes and just as strong on defense. The backfield was just as strong as the line in their running. All around it was a terrific team.

Ronnie Louk crowns Queen Lynne Cady while the other Co-captain Mike Webster looks on.

Pretty, perky Lynne Cady has a smile for everyone.

One of the most exciting Fall activities besides our successful football season was our Homecoming week-end. It came to an end with the dance on Saturday following the game.

Snowflakes fall and winter begins! Out come our mufflers, heavy coats and boots from the closets or storage rooms. School activities are now brought indoors.

As the cold weather comes, our attention is focused on basketball. The hardwood floors are booming with excitement. The many games bring out enthusiastic fans to cheer for their team.

When Christmas Carols start echoing, thoughts of the annual Snowflake Formal stir our imaginations. Yes, the winter season is here!

There's Music In the Air

Besides our Chorus we have another group of voices which is the Glee Club. We have 53 pupils enrolled in the Glee Club. The outstanding feature of its activities is the performances they give at the Christmas and Spring Concerts. A lot of credit goes to Mrs. Houseman, their director.

With the last traces of ice and snow the high school doors and windows begin to open to the warmth and beauty of Spring. Blossoms appear and Spring makes its initial appearance.

Once more the baseball and track equipment come out of the moth balls to be put into use. The various clubs are beginning to plan their outdoor social activities.

To add a special traditional touch to the Spring season there is the Junior-Senior Prom. The final moments of the year are most exciting but yet quite solemn to the seniors who are to graduate. Soon then, the wonderful school days will be a cherished memory.

The Story Behind This Book

First Row: Mrs. Myers, Advisor; D. Beachler, Editor. Second Row: S. Valentine, Secretary-Treasurer; R. Yost, Business Manager; J. Mostoller, Assistant Editor.

The officers work hard to oversee the production of this book. Much credit is due them for their untiring efforts. Without them this book would not be possible.

First Row: D. Simon, P. Hodgman, S. Divoky, M. Farkas. Second Row: S. Vanke, M. Vermillion, J. Briggs.

The production committee is responsible for seeing that all the copy is typed and ready for shipment on time. Their busy fingers pound out the keys that will bind the book to the theme.

First Row: L. Cady, S. Webster, R. Yost. Second Row: P. Mostoller, P. Kelly, S. Valentine.

In order to have a big annual we need money. That's where the advertising committee comes in. Their job is to solicit advertising from various concerns. The money made from their activities will help make a bigger and better annual.

First Row: M. Mulcahy, M. Giuliano, B. Olden, A. Donkin, T. Leatherman. Second Row: C. Godfrey, Q. Couch, G. Wilson, R. Dale, P. Glover, S. Valentine, J. Crocker. Third Row: J. Spurrier, E. Rickert, G. Ruckel.

The planning and layout committee has the big job of constructing and compiling the complete annual. Their many tasks include finding a theme, working it into every page, planning layouts, and writing copy.

Spring Brings Festive Prom

The biggest event of the Spring to which everybody looks forward was the Junior-Senior Prom. The Prom of 1955 was started by a wonderful fish and swiss steak dinner with all the trimmings, in the Ohio Room of the Mayflower Hotel in Akron. After the dinner, there was dancing to the music of the Bob Coles' Orchestra until twelve o'clock.

At one o'clock everyone was at the Medina Theater to see the Bob Mathias Story. At five a.m. breakfast was served at the school cafeteria by the Home and School Club.

Satisfied Seniors listening to speaker.

Suddenly It's Spring and A Young Man's Fancy Iurns to Baseball and Irack

Our team had a successful 1955 season in baseball. They were Medina County Champions. Then they competed in the sectional finals. In Track they were in second place in the Medina County Track Meet.

First Row: T. Lincoln, J. Lee, D. Good, R. Louk, E. Plute, D. Owens. Second Row: Coach Bangert, H. Duncan, R. Willard, M. Webster, E. Rickert, D. Stingley.

Who gets there first — the ball or Mike?

Caught by the camera in mid air!

In the spring, as in other seasons, many events center around sports. Here we are fortunate enough to have captured some fast moving action shots of these colorful games.

Another event of school life was the changing of teachers during the first and second semester. Miss Baesel, the newcomer to Highland, teaches the all important subject, English. Besides this she teaches gym class, coaches the cheerleaders, and is a Freshman class and G. A. A. advisor.

Welcome to Highland, Miss Baesel.

In memory of Charles Hardman, the Athletic Department of Highland is giving the Charles Hardman Award to the most outstanding athlete. The decision is made by the coaches and is judged on the athletic performance during the four years of high school. He must be a Senior to receive this award. Mike Webster and Ron Louk received the award this year.

Queen Marilyn has just received her lovely crown of flowers from former Queen Jan Duncan.

Marilyn and Mike approach the throne with happy anticipation.

The presentation of flowers and crown make Marilyn officially Queen of the May Dance.

May Dance Lends a Gay Note to Spring

With blossoms coming out we turn to one of our big events of Spring which is our May Dance. Marily Edwards reigned as queen of the 1955 May Dance. Janice Duncan, the 1954 queen presented flowers to the queen and crowned her with a crown of white carnations. Then she danced the queen's dance with her escort Mike Webster.

In her court were Gerry Snyder, Freshman attendant; Mary Ellen Louk, Sophomore attendant; Phyllis Rickert, Carol Swain, Lynne Cady, Junior attendants; and Phyllis Hard, Senior attendant.

Our lovely Queen and her court pose for pictures after the ceremony.

THE HATFIELDS AND THE McCOYS OF THE HIGHLAND RIDGE RUNNERS

Alas, what will happen to the brilliant and prosperous Seniors of Highland High School. Let me relate to you in this little episode what may happen in the near future.

As we look over the beautiful green hills of Kentucky, our gaze drops down to a small country scene of village and landscape.

Look! What is that coming down the road?

Why it's Ronnie Willard driving a herd of hogs and Lynne Cady carrying his jug of "Mountain Dew."

As we go along, we find Paul Sheehan up in a tree trying to catch Eddie Plute whom he thought was an opossum. Also as we walk along we find a still operated by Pete Berger, Twila Leatherman, and Tom Rickbrodt. Twila and Tom are the official tasters. We all stop and have a swig and who should drive up in his 1928 hard top convertible but Roger Bowman. He is hauling Pat Mostoller and Carol Swain in the back seat with his pet mule.

Here comes Ramon Hazen across the sweet potato patch. With him are the best gun shooting gals in the county; Connie Neiheiser and Doris Simon. Doris won a medal by shooting a flea off Mary Ann Sobczyk's hound dog. Jim.Cady is with them. He also won a medal, but he won his by shooting Sandra Valentine whom he mistook for his wife

I wonder why they are all gathering here? Must be some reason, but look!

What is that?

It looks like Marilyn Edwards and her cone-pone eating band composed of Margie Friedline, Lavonne Schiele, and their jug carrier, Allan Warner.

My mammy's corn cob pipe, but there must be something going to happen!

What, what's that?

A wedding? where?

At the general store in Shoeless Gulch.

What are we waiting for. Let's go!

As we go along the narrow road, what should we pass, but the Hog Wallow Olympics. Here we find Bernie Arnold, Mike Webster, and Larry Bergstrom engaged in the most strenous feat of the whole contest. Grinning down a bear. Ronnie Louk won the male beauty contest for having the best looking and cleanest feet in the county. We see a group of lovely Strawberry Patch girls, Joan Capes, Rita Yost, and Mary Guiliano, getting ready for their feat — A man hunt. Running with them, is Charlotte Godfrey who always gets her man. Curtis Singer is the judge. This is the only way he can escape from being caught in the man hunt.

We didn't have time to stay longer, so we went on and who should we pass, but the district Revenue officers, Jim Gorman and Norman Krueger. They had under arrest Eve Herrmann because she had been milking a cow, and Dorothy Zapotoczky made the cow kick the bucket and Beverly Hartman was left holding the bag. A bad offense.

We finally arrive at the store which is owned by Jim Kamps. He's furnishing all the moonshine for the wedding.

We all go in and who should we see but Margie Mulcahy and her six young'uns. A person meets the whole populace in a place like this.

Here back from the city are Herb Long and David Baxter. Herb made his money by selling the Empire State Building. David lost his by buying it.

Oh, look!

Here comes Gary Peterson without his shoes on. That means Larry Swain will step on them when they start a hoe-down. Larry lost ten pounds at the last wedding when he came with Marilyn Streck. She lost five pounds trying to keep up with him.

Barbara Olden is here too. She won a gold pig for being the best hog-caller in Shoeless Gulch.

I wish this wedding would start.

Oh, Look!

Here comes the best man, Bud Fogle with a dandelion stuck under his suspenders. But where is everyone else?

Oh, what's that?

Pat Hodgman and Roberta Dale forgot their shoes and Quella Couch and Phyllis Rickert got tied up in their supper. Spaghetti. Well, interruptions do happen.

There's the editor of the Greasy Gazzette, Darlene Beachler and her two assistants, Paul McCaudy and Ted McVay. Ted and Paul distribute the paper every leap year with all the bachelors' names in it to the single girls. Very convenient.

At last. Here comes the Parson, Pat Glover who will join Dorothy Phillips and Bob Ruckel in a hog-ring ceremony.

What, what did you say?

Chuck Miller went to get the ring but the hog ran off. Bob Whitehead said that he would get a ring from his hog, but come to find out, Bob's hog had run away with Chuck's. Well, what can you expect.

The bride's crying and the groom, where is that groom. Bless my soul, he's run off. I guess he won't be back because Lee Phillips, the constable, and Jerry Hartman, his deputy, went after him. Lee and Jerry have never gotten a man yet, but they keep trying.

Confusion reigns in the general store as we leave. The Highlanders are happy and contented though, as they live in Shoeless Gulch, even if the girls don't always get their man.
